SPIRIT
OF THE WEST
ADVENTURES

TOUR OVERVIEW

Six days on the wild west coast

Sunsets, sea otters, sandy beaches and sea stacks. Our 6 day expedition on a remote stretch of the west coast on Vancouver Island is something truly special. You'll experience a variety of paddling conditions in exposed and protected areas. Paddle in an area of rich First Nations culture, surround yourself with jaw-dropping scenery and maybe catch a few glimpses of the abundant wildlife. This is an area that very few people get to visit. But for those of us that do, it's a place we'll never forget.

Where you'll go

Beginning in the small fishing community of Tahsis, you'll jump onto a water taxi and head west through the Esperanza Inlet, into the traditional territory of the Nuchatlaht and the heart of Nuchatlitz Marine Park. The park is hard to access by both land and water, resulting in smaller crowds, even at the peak of the summer. From your start point, you'll paddle through enchanting islets and along the shores of Nootka Island. Drink coffee in the magical morning fog, nose into ancient caves and discover secret waterfalls. Spend your evenings exploring the fringes of the old growth forests, peering at intertidal life in rockpools, or relaxing on white sand beaches, watching the sun set over the ocean.

Weather & wildlife

The west coast of Vancouver Island is exposed to the Pacific ocean. Rain, winds and swell can be expected at any time of year. Average daytime temperatures in June, July and August are around 21°C and overnight temperatures sit at around 10°C - but an ocean breeze and cold water upwelling can make it feel a little chillier when the sun goes down. These lush forests and nutrient-rich waters are the perfect habitat for incredible amounts of wildlife. Humpback whales, sea otters, eagles and wolf tracks have all been spotted during our previous excursions on the west coast.

Who this trip is for

Our Nuchatlitz Expedition is a more challenging tour. This 6 day trip involves outer coast paddling, navigating swell and the occasional technical landing. Because of this, we do recommend that all participants on this tour have previous paddling experience, good mobility and feel at home in a kayak. Ready for your next adventure? EXAMPLE ITINERARY

This example itinerary is flexible and may be adapted based on weather conditions and group ability. This is a nomadic expedition, and you can expect to move camp between 3-4 times during the 6 days of paddling.

DAY 0

Journey to Tahsis (an adventure in itself!) CLICK HERE for up-to-date transport options and recommendations.

Once you have arrived and settled into your accommodation for the evening, head to Westview Marina to meet your guides for a pre-trip welcome meeting in the Grill-house Restaurant at 6pm. You'll meet the rest of your group, receive your waterproof drybags to pack your gear into and have the opportunity to ask any last minute questions.

DAY 1

Meet your guides at the Tahsis Municipal Dock at 10:30am.

After a quick safety briefing, you'll grab your bags and jump aboard our water taxi for a scenic 1hr boat journey through the mountainous landscape. Once you've landed on one of the remote islands within the park, your guides will make lunch and give a quick orientation to the kayaks. When everyone feels comfortable in their boats, you'll head out for your first afternoon of exploration.

DAYS 2-5

You'll begin the day with a delicious breakfast, prepared by your multi-talented guides. The plan and route for the day will depend on weather conditions and the group's desires. You'll break camp, jump into your kayak and spend the morning exploring the picturesque islands, lagoons, beaches, and sea caves hidden behind cascading waterfalls. A picnic lunch will be prepared en-route and the afternoons might involve paddling further, beach combing, or simply lounging and taking in the magnificent surroundings. After a hearty dinner, you can relax and watch a famous west coast sun set.

Campsites are plentiful and scenically situated on sandy beaches, grassy knolls or beneath the canopy of the ancient rainforest.

DAY 6

Your final day will begin with a magical morning paddle. At 10am, you'll meet our water taxi at your end destination, which will transport the group and all the gear, back to your start point in Tahsis.

WHAT TO EXPECT

YOUR JOURNEY: This is a nomadic-style expedition, you will be moving camp regularly, if not every day.

SELF-SUPPORTED: Your group will be carrying everything you need in the boats. There is no support crew, stash points or supply drops. For this reason, it is important to pack well and pack light.

PART OF A TEAM: Our expeditions require everyone to work together as a team. You will be needed to help keep camp tidy, and to assist with loading, carrying and unloading kayaks at the beginning and end of every day.

KAYAKING: Each day on the water, you can expect to be paddling for 5-6 hours and cover 7-10 nautical miles per day. You may encounter wind, swell, currents and technical landings.

KAYAKS: A fleet of good quality fibreglass kayaks will join your expedition. Typically, your group will have 6 single and 2 double kayaks. You can expect to rotate through the boats and to get to paddle different vessels throughout your trip.

CAMPsites: Most sites are remote wilderness campsites without established facilities. There will be few built toilets and no running water for the duration of your journey. Your guides will carry a portable toilet, which will be set up somewhere private at each site.

HYGIENE: Your guides will set up handwashing stations at each lunch spot and camp site. Refreshing saltwater ocean swims can be used for bathing.

SAFETY: Risk assessment and safety protocols are a big part of wilderness travel. Listen to the safety briefings given by your guides and FOLLOW THE PRECAUTIONS put in place to keep everyone safe.

REMOTE ACCESS: Upon leaving Tahsis, you will be off-grid for the remainder of your expedition. There will be no wifi, cell service or charging stations. Please bring extra batteries or battery packs for phones and cameras.

Additionally, some specific needs can only be met if we charge you a supplemental menu fee to cover our increased costs. Please note we are not a peanut- or nut-free facility.

Note: Pending a detailed discussion about a guest's specific dietary requirements, Spirit of the West Adventures may determine that a person with severe allergies and/or dietary restrictions is not suitable for our adventures due to the constraints of preparing food for groups of people in a wilderness setting.
