

ORCA LITE EXPEDITION

GUEST HANDBOOK

SPIRIT
OF THE WEST
ADVENTURES

TOUR OVERVIEW

A big adventure on a small budget

The area surrounding Telegraph Cove is a sea kayaker's dream. With miles of shoreline to explore, channels to gaze across and hundreds of birds and animals to spot, there are so many different routes and possibilities. No two days or two expeditions are ever the same!

Where you'll go

Your trip might be based in the Johnstone Strait - visiting Blinkhorn Peninsula, the Robson Bight Ecological Reserve and learning about the local resident Orca pods. Or maybe you'll circumnavigate Hanson Island, kayaking through Blackney Passage and searching for porpoises between the Plumper Islands. Or quite possibly, your group will head to Blackfish Sound, kayaking through "the blowhole" and camping on the fringe islands of the Broughton Archipelago.

Weather & wildlife

Telegraph Cove is a cool haven to escape to during the heat of the summer. Fresh breezes blow in from the open ocean and cold waters upwell from the depths of the Pacific. Typical daytime temperatures in July and August sit at 19°C, while overnight they fall to around 10°C. These cooler conditions create the perfect environment for wildlife to thrive. The cold nutrient-rich waters attract fish to the area, and the fish are what makes the whales, eagles, bears and dolphins all come out to play.

Consistent precipitation throughout the year nourishes the land and ancient forests that surround this magical place. While some long, dry spells can be expected, rainfall is not uncommon in July & August, so don't forget to pack your raingear!

Who this trip is for

The Orca Lite Expedition is a perfect entry point into the world of kayak expeditions, or a great option for those tight on time or budget. The Orca Lite tour can also be customized for private groups of experienced paddlers who are looking for longer days on the water. CONTACT US to discuss private or custom trips.

EXAMPLE ITINERARY

This example itinerary is flexible and may be adapted based on weather conditions and group ability. There is no set route for this tour, other than starting and ending in Telegraph Cove. You can expect to move camp 1-3 times over the 4 days.

DAY 1

Arrive at Telegraph Cove Marine & RV Park* around 11am. Find a parking spot and pay for parking (approx $8 per day) in the Marina office. Meet your guides at the boat ramp at 11:30am. They'll pass out your drybags and demonstrate how to pack your gear for the expedition.

After loading the boats and running through a safety briefing, you'll grab a quick lunch before pushing off into the Johnstone Strait.

After an afternoon of paddling, you'll be excited to land at your first campsite and pick the perfect spot for your tent. Before long, your guides will serve up some delicious appetizers and a hearty dinner.

Spend the evening relaxing, reading or chatting with new friends as you watch the sun dip below the horizon.

DAYS 2+3

Kicking off the day with a cup of steaming coffee and some tasty breakfast, your guides will make a plan based on weather conditions and the group's desires. Maybe you'll pack up camp and head off to explore a new area. Or maybe you'll go for a day paddle to visit the Robson Bight, the White Cliffs Islets or hike up the Big Tree Trail.

A picnic lunch will be prepared en-route and your guides will be on hand to tell you all about the amazing intertidal and marine life you might see on the way.

At the end of the afternoon, take a refreshing dip in the ocean, or settle in for the night with a good book and a mug of tea.

DAY 4

Wake up early to make the most of your final morning in paradise. Spend a few hours on the water, before heading back to your start point in Telegraph Cove.

After a quick lunch and some fond farewells, you'll be jumping in your vehicle at around 1pm, to reluctantly head back home.

WHAT TO EXPECT

YOUR JOURNEY: This is an expedition-style tour. You can expect to stay at 1, 2 or 3 different campsites across the 3 nights of your tour.

SELF-SUPPORTED: Your group will be carrying everything you need in your kayaks. There is no support crew, stash points or supply drops. For this reason, it is important to pack well and pack light.

PART OF A TEAM: Our expeditions require everyone to work together as a team. You will be needed to help keep camp tidy, and to assist with loading, carrying and unloading kayaks at the beginning and end of every day.

KAYAKING: Each day on the water, you can expect to be paddling for 3-5 hours and cover 4-6 nautical miles per day. You may encounter wind, swell, currents, crossings and technical landing.

KAYAKS: A range of good quality fibreglass kayaks will be available. For safety and storage reasons, a minimum of two double kayaks will be part of the fleet. You can expect to have the opportunity to paddle a few different boats throughout your trip.

CAMPsites: There are a number of different campsites throughout the area. You will spend at least 1 night of your tour at an established Spirit of the West base camp site on Hanson Island, which has a camp kitchen area, built tent platforms and a pit toilet. Most other sites you visit will have designated camping areas and pit toilets.

HYGIENE: Handwashing stations will be set up at each lunch spot and camp site. Refreshing saltwater ocean swims can be used for bathing.

SAFETY: Risk assessment and safety protocols are a big part of wilderness travel. Listen to the safety briefings given by your guides and FOLLOW THE PRECAUTIONS put in place to keep everyone safe.

REMOTE ACCESS: Cell service is quite reliable in the Johnstone Strait and Blackfish Sound, but you will not have access to electricity or charging stations. Please bring extra batteries or battery packs for phones and cameras.

*We recommend arriving 20-30 minutes before your scheduled meeting time, to allow for parking and unloading your gear.

We need to know as soon as possible about any dietary requirements we should consider when planning your trip menu. If you have food allergies or restrictions, we will do our best to accommodate your needs. However, people with severe food allergies may need to supply some or all of their own food as we can't entirely mitigate the risk of cross-contamination. Additionally, some specific needs can only be met if we charge you a supplemental menu fee to cover our increased costs. Please note we are not a peanut- or nut-free facility.

Note: Pending a detailed discussion about a guest's specific dietary requirements, Spirit of the West Adventures may determine that a person with severe allergies and/or dietary restrictions is not suitable for our adventures due to the constraints of preparing food for groups of people in a wilderness setting.
